I. Language and Mind; Foundations and Perspectives
   A. Knowledge of Language; Chomsky; Jackendoff
   B. Cognitive Organization of Language; The Modularity Thesis; J.Fodor
   C. Symbols, Rules, and Variables (Marcus; Berent et al)
   D. Neural networks and Perceptual Symbols

II. Basic Language Comprehension
   A. Syntactic Processes & Sentence Parsing
   B. More recent models of Parsing
      2. Experimental Work in Parsing
   C. Perceptual-motor components in comprehension

III. Written Language Processes
   A. Comprehending Written Language (C. Perfetti; A blueprint of the reader
   B. Models of English Word Identification
Psychological Review, 106, 491-528.

D. Writing systems
   1. Perfetti et al 2005

E. Word Meaning

F. Text Comprehension

G. Learning to Read

IV. Spoken Language

A. Perception and Comprehension
   1. A. Cutler & C. Clifton, A Blueprint of the listener. Chapter 5 in Brown & Hagoort

B. Production

V. Using language to do things