</thead>
</table>
| 1/9
D-6277
Engineers of human souls
A (West) German take on the place in society assigned to artists by the Communist authorities and the artists’ reactions to power and perceptions of their own mission. | 2h 17’ |
| 1/16
Film vocabulary
SK - Photo Brought to Life (student shorts)
Practice using words and phrases to provide tangible details which will support your arguments that segments of a film do indeed convey the perception, emotion, meaning that you say they do. | |

<th>Part II: CENTRAL EUROPE THROUGH FILM — THE PAST 50 YEARS</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1/23
D-2857
World War II
SK (CZ) - The Shop on Main Street (1965)
The first Slovak and Central European film to receive an Oscar; a burning topic of guilt, complicity, and helplessness. (V-0682) | 2h 8’ |
| 1/30
D-713
Relaxation of communist rule
H - Love Film (1970)
An early film by a director who went on to reach international recognition; politically sensitive topics buried under highly personal filmmaking – “beyond the flashback”: associative rather than temporal sequencing; “East and West shall never meet” – a plausible, or mandated conclusion? | 2h 10’ |
| 2/6
Writing | |
| 2/13
D-3978
Communism
PL - Camouflage (1976)
A contemporary version of medieval discourses on ethics, and the transition from college to career, accompanied by a characteristic East-Central European theme of “the idealized West meets the ‘mysterious East.’” | 1h 46’ |
| 2/20
D-2116
Collapse of communism
CZ (SK) - Kolya (1996)
A quirky Czech thespian goes Hollywood: comedy and emotional commitment; a plot designed to please; contemporary filmmaking; Central European handling of love. (D-0545) | 1h 45’ |

Grading

• Weekly assignments (3 pages minimum, on a pass/fail basis; you may choose to skip two of the 10 papers and submit only 8).

  o This is an all-or-nothing part of the final grade. If you submit the required number of the weekly assignments (8, 9, or 10), their sum total will count as an A that will calculate as 20% of your final grade. If you submit only 7 or fewer, this 20% of the final grade will calculate as an F.

  o You must submit your weekly assignments electronically by Friday, 5 p.m., after each class. If asked to do so, you must revise your assignment and bring the revision to class, or e-mail it again before you begin work on the next assignment.

• Class participation: Exceptional class participation may compensate for an occasional failed weekly assignment, especially if it was caused by extenuating circumstances, and it will move the final grade up to the next higher option if the calculated final grade ends up close to it but not high enough to mathematically meet it.

• Midterm paper (pages: 10 minimum, 12 maximum): 37.5%.

• Final paper (pages: 12 minimum, 14 maximum): 42.5%.
